

Executive Proclamation State of South Dakota Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Frances Redfield is a life-long resident of South Dakota, with the exception of time spent in Georgia while her husband, Paul, served our country; and,

WHEREAS, Frances has always worked to help people, having held several positions with ASCS, raising seven children, working with Head Start, and finally with the South Dakota Adult Services and Aging Program; and,

WHEREAS, Frances has written grants, developed training booklets and put on training seminars as far away as San Francisco; and,

WHEREAS, Frances' expertise has been recognized in many quarters, and she has been honored by the Sisseton-Wahpeton Sioux Tribe and the South Dakota Association of Nutrition Directors for her efforts; and,

WHEREAS, Frances is being honored for her lifetime of service, commitment and dedication to her fellow man on Friday, September 7; and,

WHEREAS, it is fitting and proper for the Governor to recognize the contributions of a very special South Dakotan:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim September 7, 1984, as

FRANCES REDFIELD DAY

In South Dakota, and I join Frances' many friends and relatives in wishing her a happy and enjoyable retirement of reading, gardening and fishing. Enjoy it Frances, you've earned it.
